

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention concerns a spectral ellipsometer having a refractive illuminating optical system (3) that is equipped with a small illuminating aperture and is designed for a wide wavelength region. By color correction of the 5 illuminating optical system (3), a very small measurement spot (6) is generated on a specimen surface (4).